

Village House in Alora

3

2

150m²

90m²

N/A

In a pretty tree lined street just minutes from the town centre, this very traditional village house has been sympathetically restored to retain all of the quirky elements that make Spanish town houses interesting. You enter into the first of two linking living areas and then through to the dining room and a well equipped fitted kitchen. To the rear there is a laundry room and cloakroom and stairs leading to a pretty terrace area with small kitchen and from here you can access a family bathroom and a double bedroom which also has a door to the main house, a large landing area (currently home to a wonderful train set!) and two more double bedrooms one with Juliette balcony. From the landing stairs lead back down into the living area of the house. A charming house with beamed ceilings and loads of character. #ref:APN6525

#ref:APN6525