Magnificent Andalusian Cortijo in Pizarra, in the Zalea area. This spectacular cortijo is located in total privacy, a few meters from the road and with very good access. The access is through a wrought iron gate, with an electronic remote control opening and you continue along a path of approximately 300m with fruit trees such as oranges, lemons, grapefruits, etc... This beautiful Cortijo is fully walled for your total privacy. Inside the farmhouse you will find a covered parking area for several vehicles. From the parking area we cross a very lush garden area where we see a large solid wood door with a considerable antiquity and very careful, highlighting the wrought iron rivet grilles. This house consists of two floors. On the upper floor we access through a beautiful porch, and enter the farmhouse and we find a large entrance hall where we can see the spacious living room from above and on both sides of the hall, two large bedrooms, resplendent with large windows, the one on the right with an en-suite bathroom with a bathtub and a large dressing room and the one on the left with a mezzanine and an en-suite bathroom with a walk-in shower. We continue and go down to the ground floor and we find a spectacular living room, very spacious, with a high ceiling with beams and very bright with windows, where a large fireplace and a large wall finished in stone stand out. To the right of this we find another cosy room, currently used as an office and library. Through it we reach the fourth and largest room, currently used as an art workshop. We continue and to the left of the living room is the large kitchen / dining room, to stand out for its great spaciousness, luminosity and its built-in furniture, and everything is...
